

Daily Life - I'm Sorry, I Love You II (C0028)

A: I'm so relieved that your ankle wasn't broken! I feel just awful about this whole thing. I wanna make it up to you. Let me take you out to dinner tonight. My treat.

B: That sounds great! I'd love to! Here is my address. Pick me up at eight?

A: Perfect!

B: Thank you for such a lovely evening! The food was amazing, and I had a great time.

A: Me too. You look so beautiful tonight! I wish this night would never end. There's something I have to tell you...

B: What is it?

A: I woke up today thinking this would be just like any other ordinary day, but I was wrong. A twist of fate brought us together. I crashed into your life and you into mine, and this may sound crazy, but I'm falling

Key Vocabulary

relieved	Adjective	relaxed and happy that something difficult has been stopped make it up	verb	do something good as a balance to a bad or hurtful action my treat	phrase	I will pay pick up	verb	go somewhere in order to get someone or something ordinary	Adjective	normal twist of fate	phrase	unplanned events that has a big impact on the future

crash	verb	hit something causing serious damage fall in love	phrase	start being in love

Supplementary Vocabulary

go on a date	phrase	go to an event or activity with a boyfriend or girlfriend ask you out	verb	invite or ask someone to go on a date (informal) take you out	verb	invite someone to go and do something turn down	verb	decline an invitation look forward to	verb	an expression to show excitement about something see someone	verb	be in a relationship with someone flirt	verb	behave in a way that expresses a sexual attraction for someone